

- I think that I worked really well throughout the project and was really pleased with the end result. I was lucky enough to be in a really good team where everybody pulled their weight, so we all shared the work evenly and this made me work harder because I didn't want to let the team down.
- I did fall behind the plan at some points although this was primarily because we spent some time each morning discussing things as an entire class but we had not allowed for this in our plan. The contingency time at the end of each day made sure that I was up to date every morning, although I did not have to use this often because I normally caught up during the day.
- I think that working in a team has helped me deal with stress better because I have to try hard not to snap at other team members.
- The project has helped me to understand how businesses work much better and to understand why advertising departments have such big budgets. Although I have never seen myself working for a big business, I really enjoyed this week and might consider working in business in the future.
- I think I worked really well as a team member, and we all contributed to everything. We were really organised and split tasks evenly between us. Later in the week particularly, we all communicated really well and our personalities complimented each other. Our team members were all really hard working and I would definitely work with them again.
- If I was to do the project again I would allow time for being taught as a whole class in the plan and I would spend longer trying to make my attempt at designing a logo more original and less square and boring.
